

HISTORIC BRADMORE PROPERTIES

FARMER STREET, EAST SIDE

15 Farmer Street, Bonsers Farm, Plumtrees House from 1999

Listed Building: Ref 5/6, Farmer St East side, No.15, grade 2. Early C18th house, designed by and built for Sir Thomas Parkyns of Bunny Hall. Red brick. Concrete pantile roof. 2 red brick gable stacks. Brick coped gables with kneelers. Dentil eaves. First floor band. 2 storeys, 3 bays. Central doorway with C20th door flanked by single tripartite casements. Altered ground floor openings under segmental arches. Above are 2 similar casements. To the left a red brick and concrete pantile single storey wing, to the rear a 2-storey wing. (Dept of Environment List of Buildings 1986.)

The main part of the house was built early in the C18th, say 1720. It was built onto an existing low room at the back, the wash house, which has wooden beams at the eaves level and a bedroom halfway up the stairs, C17th or earlier. Later the back kitchen to the north was added and the parlour separated by a wall of 3in. thick bricks to form a corridor to the stairs and rear room. A door between the parlour and living room was blocked up and an enclosure made so that the dairy door did not open directly into the living room. The original back door from the living room was also blocked up. 1956 a bathroom was formed in the old wash house. 1987 replacement windows. (Source: J Randall.)

Methodist Chapel and Sunday School.

Reputedly John Wesley came through Bradmore, before the Turnpike was built in 1738, and may have preached at the bottom of Main St. near the site of the Chapel. Built originally on part of the land associated with Blackcliffe Farm, and when the tenant James Goodacre died the land was separated from the farm and allocated to the Methodists. Chapel originally had a central stove for heating and backless benches, lit by tallow candles tended by the Chapelkeeper. Singing was led by local musicians until the purchase of a harmonium.

Extract from The Methodist Outlook, South Notts, including Circuit Plan and Directory, for May 1937. Frontispiece: Bradmore Methodist Church

Methodism in the picturesque little village of Bradmore dates back to the early part of the last Century, when a group of local farmers bearing such names as Walker, Holmes, Nixon and Rowbottom, men keenly interested in the cause, resolved themselves into a Society, and toward the year 1830 became sufficiently strong in membership to venture on the building of a place of worship.

At first some difficulty was experienced in obtaining a plot of land but this was eventually overcome and the Leasehold of a suitable site was granted by the Right Hon. Lord Raneliffe of the Manor, Bunny Park, at an annual rental of 2s. After his decease the estate passed to one Mrs Harriet Forteach, and in subsequent years a Conveyance of Freehold was signed, in celebration of which a Thanksgiving Service was held in the home of one of the members.

When the work on the building started, it is said that there was no actual "stonelaying ceremony" but that anyone who gave the builders a "tip" could name and place a brick! Several so-named bricks may still be seen. The Chapel was completed and opened for public worship on Feast Monday, the first Monday in November 1830. Although built as a Wesleyan chapel it was not until some years after its erection that the first Trust was formed and the property handed over to the Connexion.

While many structural alterations have been effected during the course of latter years, it is interesting to note that the floor of the Chapel was originally paved with bricks and this part of the work was barely finished on the morning of the opening. The place was heated by a stove in the centre, and the seating consisted of plain backless forms. At night tallow candles provided the only illumination, and it was the duty of the Chapel-keeper to go round during the service and snuff them, making no little commotion in his hob-nailed boots, and presenting a striking appearance in his blue smock frock and knee-breeches.

Before the Harmonium was purchased, the singing was led by a band of local musicians, with cornet, clarionet, euphonium, etc, and should they fail to be there, someone in the congregation was called upon to raise the tune. (A modern pipe-organ with an electrical blower now adorns the place).

For quite a period ministerial appointments were few and far between but the pulpit was worthily supplied by Local Preachers, such as James Buxton, Thomas Attewell, William Hickling and William Smith (the latter still resident in the village and intensely devoted to his chapel at the age of 85 years).

At one time, the Sabbath was certainly a "Day well spent" beginning as it did with a Prayer Meeting at 7 am, then Class Meeting at 9.0., Sunday School at 10.0, followed by Services at 2.30 pm and 6 o'clock.

One of the most remarkable incidents in the history of the Chapel was on the occasion of the Anniversary about 50 years ago, when during the evening service the ceiling suddenly cracked. Strange to say, the preacher a Rev Mr Thornley was about to announce his text, "Escape for thy life" Gen. 19:17). Fortunately, the congregation had time to leave the building before the ceiling crashed.

Until the year 1904 the Chapel was also used as a Sunday School, then more land was secured and the adjoining Schoolroom was built. A stone on behalf of the children was laid by the Superintendent, William Smith, to whom was presented a Hymn Book, one of his most treasured possessions to this day. Another item of peculiar interest is the Society Stewards account book, which has been in use for over 100 years; the first entry was made in 1831, and the last so recently as 1935.

The Chapel Centenary was celebrated in July of 1930, when the occasion was graced by the presence of the Rev E Benson Parkins. Throughout the years the Methodist witness has been effectively borne, the work at present is maintained by loyal and devoted people, and from the 'little Bethel by the wayside' there still flows an uplifting and helpful influence.

27 Farmer Street, Parkyns

Listed building: Ref 5/9 Farmer St east side, No.27, grade 2. House, early and late C19th. Red brick. Pantile roof, 2 gable and single ridge red brick stacks. Dogtooth eaves. 2 storeys, 4 bays. Right single bay late C19th. Doorway with part glazed double door and reveal. Either side are single tripartite casement and further right a single tripartite casement under a segmental arch. Above are 2 similar casements. Included in listing for group value. (Dept of Environment List of Buildings 1986.)

C19th, Rowbottam family occupied this corner and Orchard House corner. Precise occupation prior to that is not certain, and the following is a suggested resolution of the evidence.

c1760-1817 Robert Roebottom, carpenter and coffin-maker, married to Alice. In 1792 in Bunny estate survey with 13½ acres on Cottage Moor and Moor Close, and an acre foldyard and croft, house, carpenter's shop and garden.

1817-1828 Thomas Roobottom son of Robert and Alice, joiner and carpenter. Married Mary.

1828-1849 Thomas's widow Mary at the Rowbottam house in the 1841 census with her son John and his wife and children. She died 1849.

1849-88 Thomas Rowbotham, carpenter and joiner, son of Thomas and Mary, with a 19-year old son Thomas, carpenter. By 1861 Thomas senior had moved across the road to the Orchard House site, leaving Thomas junior in Parkyns with his wife Mary. They were married in 1853, and this may be when Thomas senior moved out. Thomas junior in the 1861 census as cottager with 4 acres. The census sequence places him clearly in Parkyns and his father opposite, though later census sequence suggests he and Thomas senior swapped houses in 1871 and swapped back again in 1881 - this may be a confusion in writing up the census results. In 1867 Bunny estate rental Thomas junior had 1¾ acres in Bradmore, 2 acres in Bunny, house and garden. Both Thomas senior and Thomas junior died in 1886. Mary senior died 1887, and Mary junior 1888.

c1888-? Richard Jackson, cottager and corn carrier, son of Richard and Ann, married to Eliza. In 1891 had left his parents' house and is in the census sequence after the north end of Farmer St. and immediately before the Dalbys on the main road in front of the Crown. Parkyns corner is a logical location. In 1900 Bunny estate rental with cottage and 18½ acres. By the 1908 rental he had only 1¾ acres. Before 1920 the family moved to No.11 Main St., the exact date not clear as electoral rolls show R Jackson with land and tenement 1890-1914, then the roll was suspended during the War and only resumed in 1920. 1900 OS map shows a well at the south side of the house, on the corner.

FARMER STREET, WEST SIDE

28 Farmer Street, Manor House (formerly Manor Farm, includes former Nos.26 & 28)

Listed building: Ref 5/11 Farmer St. west side No.28, grade 2. House, formerly 2 houses. Mid C18th/early C19th and early C20th. Early C19th house of red brick and slate roof. 2 external red brick gable stacks. Dogtooth eaves. 2 storeys, 3 bays. Remains of C18th 1st floor band to right single bay. Doorway with panelled door. Either side are single glazing bar sashes with 3 similar sashes above. All openings are under segmental arches. To the right is the lower 2-storey, 3 bay C20th house. Red brick, plain tile roof and right gable red brick stack, with doorway and various openings. Included for group value. (Dept of Environment List of Buildings 1986.)

There were five wells in the courtyard of Manor Farm, though none appear on the OS map of 1900.

Northern house

c1763-1772 Edward Vose senior, farmer; agreement between himself and his son Edward Vose wherein for £60 he became joint partner and resigned to him half his effects. An inventory in 1771 comprises purse and apparel £10, household goods £40, horses £50, cows £50, sheep £20, corn growing £100, carriages £30, manure and all implements of husbandry £20, old beans £20, total £340. There is no indication of which farm Edward is at, but the 1792 survey places his son at Manor Farm, northern end.

1772-1831 Edward Vose junior. In 1792 Bunny Estate survey, in northern portion of the Manor Farm site, with house, outbuildings, garden, foldyard, and 104 acres. He married Mary in 1767, which may have been when he entered into joint partnership with his father, paying £60. Died in 1831.

1817-1829 William Vose, born 1770s, married to Mary c1797, parents not known but could have been a surviving son of Edward and Mary. Took over land tax 1817 and paid until his death in 1829, when it passed to his son Isaac. Mary died 1838.

1830-c1851 Isaac Voce, son of William and Mary, married Elizabeth. In 1832 farmer, jointly with Sam Voce of Yorke Farm. Last reference in Bradmore is in the 1851 census, as farmer of 128 acres - considerably less than the full extent of Manor Farm, but this census gives no locational information. The southern house was apparently unoccupied up to 1850 but by 1851 the James brothers were established in Manor Farm.

1841 Thomas Harwood, shoemaker, son of John Harwood, recorded between entries for Manor Farm and Bonsers Farm, married to Sarah (his second marriage). Thomas was a great-grandson of Richard and Rebecca Walker who were in the southern house in the mid 1700s. By 1861 he is listed on the main road between the Crown Inn and Yorke Farm. He may have established himself at Manor Farm before moving into premises vacated by the Olivers, also shoemakers, who disappeared from Bradmore after 1853.

1841 census also shows John Smith, collarmaker, cottager and framework knitter in 1851, married to Ann, listed between Thomas Harwood and Bonsers Farm, presumably at the extreme north end of Farmer St. The Smiths were either in the northern house, or in the farm cottage beyond it. The 1851 census gives no location information, being in roughly alphabetical order of surnames. By 1861 the Smiths were on Main St. in the Southwell House cottages.

1861 Edward Harwood, agricultural labourer, a younger brother of Thomas, married to Martha, sequenced between Manor Farm and Bonsers Farm, probably in the northern house. In 1867 Bunny Estate survey with a house and garden at £2/10/- pa, and also jointly with John Henson renting allotments for £48 pa. By the 1871 census Edward was on Far St., more consistent with the low rent in the survey, so may have already moved there by 1867.

1871 Elizabeth Goodwin, retired farmer's widow, listed between Bonsers Farm and Edward Goodwin at Manor Farm, who may be her son. By 1867 Robert Goodwin had arrived in the village and is recorded in Bunny estate rental with 200½ acres, house, buildings and orchard, but there is no later reference to him. By 1871 George Goodwin was at Debdale Farm, with 200 acres, and Edward Goodwin at Manor Farm, also with 200 acres; both are from Derbyshire, but there is no indication of their parentage. It seems likely that Robert was Elizabeth's husband, and died shortly after moving to Bradmore. There is no later reference to Elizabeth.

By 1881 George Preston, agricultural labourer, listed between Manor Farm and Bonsers Farm. Married Mary Ann. In 1891 there is no clear indication of a separate household in the northern house.

Southern house

c1725-1776 Richard Walker married Rebecca Street and was active in Bradmore affairs from 1730s.

1776-1785 When land tax records begin in 1780, Richard Walker's widow Rebecca paid tax listed as Widow Walker. She died in 1785, leaving her son Richard, farmer, as executor. Her will indicates extensive family links, through marriages of her children: daughter Elizabeth married William Goodacre, miller of Wymeswold, and one of their 8 children later took over Blackcliffe Farm; daughter Rebecca married William Dalby, miller of Bradmore; daughter Mary married John Harwood of Ruddington, and their son John eventually inherited Hill Farm from Rebecca's sister Mary. The Walker lands had probably already passed to the eldest son Richard. Rebecca's inventory comprises purse and apparel £5, goods in the house £3, in the parlour £2, in the kitchen £1, in the fires, in the chamber over the house and in the parlour £5, in another chamber £1; 3 horses £18, 5 cows £15, sheep £15, swine £2, white corn in the barn unthrashed £40, peas unthrashed £15, hay £15, grain growing on the ground £10, implements of husbandry £3. Not clear whether this relates to just Hill Farm, or Manor Farm as well.

1779-87 Richard Walker junior paid land tax on Manor Farm. Married Mary.

1787-1804 Mary Walker widow of Richard paid land tax for Manor Farm. In 1792 Survey with 183¼ acres, house, outbuildings, garden and foldyard. Her son Richard was 21 in 1796, but did not take over the land tax immediately. Mary died 1823.

1805-c1829 Richard Walker son of Richard and Mary took over the land tax and continued to the end of the record in 1832. Married Ann, who died in 1829. In 1816 he appeared to absorb the lands formerly held by Mr Boulthby and Mr Hopwell, and by the Browns before them, in the 1792 survey shown as 11 acres, identified as the three Flawford Closes. In 1828 land tax increased again, absorbing lands given up by John Lane senior (83¼ acres in 1792, based at Rufford Lodge) and half of John Lane Junior's lands (formerly of George and then Robert Attenborough, total 169¼ acres in 1792 based at Rancliffe Farm.) There is a second Richard Walker in the village at the same time, married to Mary Ann, located at Rancliffe Farm, not at Manor Farm, and may be the son of Richard and Ann, set up on the lands taken over from John Lane junior. There is no evidence for Richard Walker senior after 1829. 1829-c1850 Richard Walker son of Richard and Ann, married Mary Ann 1827, based at Rancliffe Farm, may have continued to farm Manor as well, though there is no direct evidence. The last reference to Richard is in 1847. Isaac Voce may possibly have been living in the southern house during this period (see above, under Northern house) but although he was still in the village in 1851 he cannot have been at Manor Farm at the date of the census as the James brothers had by then taken over the farm. Also in 1841 the census sequence shows a Sam Hordmer, householder of independent means with 3 servants, located between the Goodacres at Blackcliffe Farm and Isaac Voce at Manor, which would put him either in Barn Close or in one of the Manor Farm houses. Nothing else is known about him.

1850-3 William James, farmer's son from Barnstone, in 1851 farmer of 220 acres, with his brother Edward Griffin James. In 1853 directory there is an entry for William as farmer, but by 1855 the entry is for his brother Edward. There is no later reference to William c1854-1869 Edward Griffin James, brother of William, present at Manor Farm in the 1851 census, first described as farmer in 1855 directory. 1861 married to Mary Ann, farmer of 317 acres; in 1864 directory as farmer and land steward to Bunny Estate. In 1867 Bunny Estate Survey with 319½ acres, house, buildings, garden and orchard, with the Manor Farm fields, 211 acres, listed individually under his name in the survey. The final reference to Edward is in the 1869 directory, as farmer.

c1870-6 Edward Goodwin from Derbyshire, probably brother of George Goodwin at Debdale Farm from 1864, and possibly son of widow Elizabeth living in the northern house in 1871 as retired farmer's widow. In 1871 farmer of 200 acres (i.e. the original Manor Farm lands), married to Emma.

c1881-c1890 Thomas Grundy from Lincolnshire married to Mary, in 1881 farmer of 114 acres, living in a farm house. The census sequence, running from the Main Rd. up the Ramper and south along Farmer St., places Thomas next to Thomas Morris at Barn Close. However, the acreage is low for Manor Farm, and Blackcliffe Farm appears to be empty at this time and in 1891, when there is a similar sequence, so the Grundys may have been there. If so, Manor Farm was empty at this time. By 1891 Thomas Grundy was described as retired farmer and was living with one of his grand-daughters in a cottage near the bottom of Main St.

c1890-c1898 George Grundy living with his parents in 1881, took over the farm by 1891 when he was described as farmer. Married Emma who died in 1885 and by 1888 George was married to Alice Emily. On the electoral roll with land and tenement up to 1899. 1897 the parish council employed a man to clean out the open ditches, then in a filthy state, at the north end of the village running between Mr Grundy's fields and Mr Ford's (Bonsers Farm). 1898 his wife Alice Emily applied to the Bunny & Bradmore charities for the apprentice fee for Harry Jackson Grundy, son of George and Emma, which suggests that George had died, but he is still recorded as trustee of the Methodist church in deeds of 1903. There is no later reference to the family.

1899-c1903 Edwin Harriman, son of James, farmer, at Manor Farm in 1900 when he married Clara Kate. April 1899 parish council minutes record that the cost of cleaning out the Common Issue ditch between Mr Harriman's lands and R Bagguley's (Blackcliffe) to be shared between Mr Bagguley and the council. In 1900 Bunny estate rental with 209½ acres, farmhouse and a cottage and garden at £3/10/- rent. By 1908 estate rental Manor Farm had passed to J & CF Hutchinson. The Harrimans moved to Cropwell, and after Edwin died Clara Kate and her 2 children moved back to Bradmore to live in one of the Southwell House cottages.

c1903-c1917 Charles Frederick Hutchinson, son of John Hutchinson of Rancliffe Farm. Married Elizabeth. By 1897 on the electoral roll as Frederick, with a house, up to 1901 and then with land and tenement in 1902, and jointly with John senior until 1908, and alone until 1914 when the roll ceased for the duration of the War. In 1900 Bunny estate rental as F C Hutchinson with a cottage and 3¾ acres, elsewhere in the village, but by 1908 jointly with J Hutchinson he had 209½ acres, and a second entry for £3, probably a cottage. No later reference to Charles Frederick. The Hutchinsons moved to Rancliffe Farm when the Beebys took Manor Farm in about 1918 (Source: M Peregrine).

Listed building: Ref 5/12 Farmer St. west side, Stafford House and adjacent barn, formerly listed as Barn Close and adjacent barn. Grade 2 listed 13.10.1966. Farmhouse and adjacent barn, house now offices. Early and mid C18th, converted c.1985. Designed by and built for Sir Thomas Parkyns of Bunny Hall. House of red brick. Plain tile roof. Single ridge red brick and C20th right gable stacks. Brick coped right gable and kneeler. Lobby entry plan. 2 storeys, 5 bays. 1st floor band and band over 1st floor lintels. Attached to the left and of the same height is the red brick and pantile 3 storey barn. The left part being mid C18th and set on a plinth with a large segmental arched doorway flanked by single pilaster buttresses. To the left, 2 low blind segmental arches. Above are 5 slit ventilators with 5 similar ventilators above. Over is a single opening with shutter and above are 9 slit ventilators which extend over the doorway. There are 2 tie plates. c1700-1727, John Nixon, husbandman and yeoman of Bradmore, married to Ann, active in Bradmore from 1711 when he carried out the inventory of goods of Joseph Chamberlain, farmer of Bradmore. John Nixon's own inventory of 1726 comprised purse and apparell £2/10/-, goods in the house £5, goods in the first parlour 15/-, goods in the next parlour 10/-, goods in the chambers £2/10/-, goods in the kitchen £2/5/-, cows young and old £25, horse flesh young and old £27, swine £2/5/-, sheep and fleeces £12, carriage, ploughs, harrows and other implements 10/5, crop on the ground £2/10/-, total £110/10/-. At this stage there is nothing to indicate which farm is involved.

1727-?1732 John Nixon's executor was his son John, about whom little is known; he may be the John Nixon of Bradmore buried at Bunny in 1732.

1732-1780 Joseph Nixon, farmer, son of John and Ann, married Mary, survived to 1787. Inventory comprised only purse and apparell £50 and household goods etc £50. He was 77 years old when he died and had already handed the farm over to William, probably when about 70 years old in 1780.

c1780-1817 William Nixon son of Joseph and Mary. In 1792 Bunny estate survey at Barn Farm, with 90 acres, house, outbuildings, garden and foldyard. Paid land tax from the start of the record in 1780 to 1799, then intermittently, alternating with John Nixon, until 1817 when he died.

1808-1854 John Nixon, paid land tax intermittently, 1808-1817, alternating with William Nixon, then continuously from 1819 to the end of the land tax record in 1832. First described as farmer in 1827, in directories as farmer 1832-1855. Married to Martha. In 1851 farmer of 140 acres. In 1908 Bunny estate rental 'Nixon's farm' was farmed in hand by the estate.

1858-1887 Tommy Morris from Barnstone, son of Samuel, farmer, was in the village in 1858 and at Barn Close in 1861 farming 116 acres. Married Emma. In 1867 Bunny estate rental with 122³/₄ acres, house, buildings and land. In 1871 farming 176 acres. 1881 farmer of 179 acres. Thomas died in 1884, and Emma in 1887.

1888-c1914 Joseph Stafford from Annesley in 1888 directory as farmer of Bradmore, also in 1891, married to Ellen. In 1900 Bunny estate rental with 96 acres and a farmhouse. The 1908 rental shows 95 acres. 1900 OS map shows a pump behind the house. On electoral roll with land and tenement 1886-1914, but by 1920 he had moved to Main St., probably No.24. In the 1890s Mr Stafford rented the house on the corner of Far St. and Farmer St. and had a meadow in the moors with a footpath along one side and an old wooden shed (J P Smeeton). Ellen Stafford died in 1895, Joseph in 1932.

In the 1891 census Joseph Stafford's is one of two households numbered 31, the other being that of George Ingram, farm manager, from Lincolnshire with his wife Harriett and family. The evidence suggests that the Ingrams and Staffords shared the house at Barn Close, though it is not clear which farm George Ingram was managing.

36 Farmer Street, Rufford Lodge

Listed building: Ref 5/13 Farmer St west side, Rufford Lodge and adjacent outbuildings and barns, grade 2, listed 13.10.1966. House and adjacent outbuildings and barn, c1700 and early C19th. c1700 house designed by and built for Sir Thomas Parkyns of Bunny Hall. Render over red brick. Ashlar dressings. Pantile roof. Single ridge red brick stack. Lead coped gables and kneelers. 1st floor band and band over 1st floor openings. 2 storeys and garret, 3 bays. Central doorway with fielded panel reveal and C20th glazing bar door. Either side are single ashlar mullion 2-light casements. Three similar casements above, some casements with glazing bars. To the rear are 2 similar wings, that on the left with single C20th casement and single similar ashlar mullion casement above. Attached to the left and fronting Main St. is the range of early C19th red brick and pantile outbuildings and barn with raised eaves bands. That attached to the house being single storey and single ridge red brick stack and 2 C20th fixed lights is converted to domestic use. Further left is a 2-storey barn with doorway with large plank door and overlight and on the far left is a single storey range. (Dept of Environment List of Buildings 1986.)

c1770-1825 John Lane senior, married to Jane. Paid land tax 1780-1827 as John senior. John died in 1825 but tax records lagged behind, and in 1827 still described him as farmer. In 1792 Bunny estate survey as John senior with 83³/₄ acres, house, outbuildings, garden, foldyard and orchard. Part of his land was opposite on Main St., later Riding School land. In 1828 his land tax was incorporated into that of Richard Walker at Manor Farm, representing part of the land farmed by Richard Walker junior based at Rancliffe.

1825-c1836 John Lane junior, son of John senior, took over land tax of Robert Attenborough of Rancliffe Farm in 1814, but reduced to half the amount in 1828, the lost half transferring to Richard Walker together with John Lane senior's land and forming the basis for Richard Walker junior's holding at Rancliffe. John junior was described in the directory of 1832 as farmer, and still paid land tax in 1832 when the record ends. Trustee of Bradmore Methodist Church in 1835, as farmer, and signed the Constables Accounts in 1836, the last record of him in Bradmore. Possibly after his father's death John junior moved into his parents' house, freeing up Rancliffe for the Walkers, but retaining some lands to continue farming.

1837-1860 The 1841 census is unclear at this part of Farmer St. John Nixon is listed between Stubbs the saddler by the steeple and Goodacres at Blackcliffe Farm, which could place him at either Rufford Lodge or Barn Close. If the latter, then Rufford Lodge was unoccupied at the time of the census. John Nixon was the son of William Nixon at Barn Close and from 1808-1817, when William died, William and John paid land tax alternately on the Barn Close holding. John then paid tax through to the end of the record in 1832 and was in the village up to his death in 1854, but on balance the evidence points to him being at Barn Close rather than Rufford Lodge. Rufford therefore appears to be unoccupied.

1861-1870 Levi Sharpe from Cotgrave, married to Ann. 1861 farmer of 66 acres. In 1867 Bunny estate rental with 63½ acres in Bradmore and 3¼ acres in Bunny, with house, orchard and garden in Bradmore. April 1870 he signed the valuation of the farm opposite the chapel (i.e. Rufford Lodge) at the transfer of tenants right from himself to Mrs Harriett Forteath of Bunny Park and her appointed tenant Mr John Randall. The Sharpes moved to Main St., where they appear on the 1871 census.

1870-1909 John Randall from Lodge on the Wolds, joiner, wheelwright and farmer, married to Sarah. Moved to Bradmore on 25.3.1870 (Lady Day, quarter day). 1871 farmer of 67 acres. 1881 farmer of 67 acres. In 1900 Bunny Estate rental with 185 acres and farmhouses, presumably including Bonsers Farm, and by 1908 this land had transferred to his sons John Edward and William Oliver Randall jointly. John Randall (senior) on electoral roll with land and tenement up to 1907, probably after the date of the change. Moved to 15 Farmer St., Bonsers Farm, in 1909. John died in 1928, at Bonsers. Sons William Oliver moved to 111 Loughborough Rd. in 1911 while John Edward was at Bonsers.

Valuation 8 April 1870, farm at Bradmore opposite chapel called Rufford Lodge in 1877. Valuation of tenants right upon a farm at Bradmore in the County of Nottingham from Mr Levi Sharp to Mrs Harriet Forteath or her appointed tenant Mr John Randall, as on the 6th inst. / 3.2.4 Roe Close. 1900 OS map shows a pump behind the house in the yard.

38 Farmer Street, Orchard House

Before 1861 there is no clear evidence to name the occupier of this corner site. This and the opposite corner, the site of Parkyns, are both associated with the Rowbotham family, and one probable scenario places Robert Roebottom here at the 1792 Survey, renting 13½ acres on Cottage Moor and Moor Close, and with a 1 acre foldyard and croft, plus house, carpenter's shop and garden. The shop was in a barn which stood on the corner of Farmer St. and Main St., near where the later garage was built. Robert was here from about 1760, married to Alice. Died 1817.

1817-1828 Thomas Roobotham, joiner and carpenter, son of Robert and Alice.

1828-1849 Mary Roobotham, widow of Thomas. Up to this point, it is unclear whether the house is Parkyns or on the Orchard House site.

1849-86 Thomas, carpenter and joiner, son of Thomas and Mary, married to Mary, with son Thomas junior, carpenter. By 1861 census the sequence of the listing indicates clearly that Thomas senior was on the Orchard House site, and Thomas junior was in Parkyns with his wife, also called Mary. They were married in 1853, and this may be when the families divided between the two properties. The 1867 Bunny estate rental has Thomas Senior renting a house, garden and orchard of ¾ acre in Bradmore, and 12 acres in Bunny. The 1871 census sequence suggests that Thomas senior and Thomas junior had swapped houses and swapped back again in 1881 - this may be a confusion in writing up the census results. The 1881 census has Thomas senior in Orchard House. Thomas is still listed in the 1885/6 directory as cottager, and on the electoral roll with land and a tenement in 1886/7. He died in 1886, and his wife Mary died the year after. Thomas junior also died in 1886, and his wife Mary junior died in 1888.

c1891-5 George Henry Clark, agricultural labourer, married to Sarah. The house may have been split to accommodate two households at this period.

c1890-1898, Thomas Grundy and his wife Mary, formerly at Manor Farm / Blackcliffe Farm, moved here when Thomas retired and handed the farm over to his son George Grundy.

1898-1925 Occupants not known, but John Randall at Rufford Lodge took over the barn as his stackyard. J P Smeeton in 1939 referred to a cottage demolished recently near the village stocks, which stood near this corner, and to a gravestone in the cottage wall which was taken as evidence that Bradmore once had its own graveyard.

Valuation dated 5.4.1887 of Homestead, demolished prior to 1920, opposite chapel and also opposite Rufford Lodge, where Mrs Attewell lived 1977, i.e. on site of Orchard House. Valuation and tenant-right and fixtures on a cottage and premises situate at Bradmore, also of dilapidations on same, as transferred from the executors of the late Thomas Rowbotham to Miss Hawksley of Bunny Park, or her incoming tenant John Randall. / In House. c1750-1799 George Attenborough son of Richard and Prudence, married Mary. In 1792 Bunny estate Survey with 169³/₄ acres, house, outbuildings, garden, field, yard and croft.

1799-1813 Robert Attenborough, son of George and Mary, died in 1813, apparently unmarried.

1814-1827 John Lane junior, farmer in land tax schedule. In 1828 half of John Lane's land tax, plus all that of his father, was taken over by Richard Walker at Manor Farm. John Lane continued to farm the other half of his land, but was not still living at Rancliffe Farm.

1828-c1848 Richard Walker, son of Richard and Ann at Manor Farm, possibly farming Rancliffe on behalf of his father who took over much of the Lanes' land, at least up to 1834 when Richard senior died. Richard is described as farmer in the 1832 directory, married Mary Ann.

c1849-1860s The 1851 census gives no locational information to confirm who took over Rancliffe after the Walkers. Joseph Nixon appears to be at Yorke Farm in the 1841 census, but by the 1861 census was apparently at Rancliffe Farm with 180 acres. However, Thomas Holmes who was at Yorke Farm in 1861 was in the village from 1849, and this seems a likely date for Joseph's move to Rancliffe. Joseph is recorded in 1851 as farmer of 200 acres, and in directory entries through the 1850s. However, there is no information after 1861, other than a reference to his widow Mary in 1891 at her son-in-law's farm at Burton Bandalls, Leics.

c1871 Joseph Bosworth, married to Frances, farmer of 170 acres at Rancliffe Farm. There is no other reference to these Bosworths, so it is not known how long they were in Bradmore.

c1875-c1903 By 1881 John Hutchinson, farmer of 191 acres living in the farmhouse with his wife Ann. In 1861 he was still described as cotton stocking maker, but had set up his own household in a cottage somewhere near Rancliffe Farm. By 1865 he was renting grazing along the lanes, and in the 1867 Bunny estate rental he had a house, mill, garden and 6¹/₄ acres in Bradmore plus 2³/₄ acres in Bunny. The mill at the top of Far St. was known as Hutchinsons Mill, and by 1871 John and his family were living at the top of Main St. in Home Farm. The census describes him as farmer and miller, with 23 acres. By 1881 he moved into Rancliffe Farm. The name Hutchinson's Lane applied to this part of Farmer St. probably dates from this time. In 1900 Bunny estate rental with farmhouse and 169¹/₂ acres, and a second entry for a cottage and garden at £3 rent, location unknown. On electoral roll with land and tenement to 1902, then jointly with his son Frederick 1903-1905. In 1908 Bunny estate rental John and Frederick Hutchinson jointly, with 109½ acres plus a cottage - this is actually Manor Farm which C F Hutchinson took over from Edwin Harriman c1903.

c1903-1907 No information.

1907-c1911 Isaac Rains. In 1908 Bunny estate rental with 179 acres 1 rood 20 perches, rent £155 pa, and cottages at £2 rent.
